

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

HOUSEHOLD PRAYERS

FOR THE YEAR 1847.

LONDON :

J. HATCHARD AND SON, 187, PICCADILLY.

1847.

The following plain forms have been compiled with a view to afford some additional variety in the daily observance of household worship.

I.

O LORD thou hast searched us out and known us: Thou knowest our down-sitting and our up-rising; Thou understandest our thoughts long before.

Thou art about our path, and about our bed, and spiest out all our ways.—(From Ps. cxxxix. 1, 2.)

O Almighty God, who inhabitest eternity, who dwellest in the high and holy place, and with him also who is of a contrite and humble spirit, we confess that our transgressions are multiplied before Thee,—yea, our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities we know them, (Isa. lix. 12.) O God, grant us rightly to understand our fallen state, and the covenant of our redemption; that we may commit ourselves unto Him, who being made man, and dying for the sins of the world, has obtained for them that love him, pardon and peace. Let us take his yoke upon us, and learn of Him; for His yoke is easy, and He is able to free us from the bondage of our sins. O let us yield ourselves unto His guidance, for he alone hath shewn us what is the perfect and acceptable will of God, and hath enabled us to become conformed thereunto, according to the power wherewith He is able to subdue all things unto Himself.

Grant, O Heavenly Father, that through the help and teaching of thy Holy Spirit of truth Christ may be enthroned in our hearts, and be pleased so to strengthen our weakness this day, that we may walk worthy of the vocation wherewith we have been called, with all lowliness and meekness, with long suffering,—forbearing one another in love, endeavouring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. O Lord, make us to prosper in Thy way: that we may become strong in Thee, and in the power of Thy might, striving to attain unto the perfect man in the knowledge of Thy Son:—even unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.

O God of mercy, look down we pray Thee on our relations and friends, and sustain them with the light of Thy truth, and the comfort of Thy Grace.

Keep, O Lord, we beseech Thee, Thy Church with Thy perpetual mercy. Let Thy gracious favour rest upon the Queen, and all who are in authority under her; and grant that the course of this world may be so peaceably ordered by Thy governance that all strifes and divisions may cease in this land. Lord make us to be a people serving Thee, and working righteousness, and, let truth and justice, brotherly kindness and charity so flourish among us, that they may be the stability of our time, and make this church and nation a praise in the earth through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name ; Thy kingdom come ; Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven : Give us this day our daily bread ; And forgive us our tresspasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us ; And lead us not into temptation, But deliver us from evil : For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with us all evermore. Amen.

II.

HAVE mercy upon us, O God, according to Thy loving kindness, according to the multitude of Thy tender mercies blot out our transgressions.—(From Ps. li. 1.)

O send out Thy light, and Thy truth, let them lead us, let them bring us to Thy Holy hill, and to Thy tabernacles.—(From Ps. xliii. 3.)

Almighty God, who for Christ's sake dost accept our weak and imperfect service, give us grace to approach Thee with watchful hearts, and devoutly to offer up the sacrifice of prayer and thanksgiving.

Thou, Lord, hast shown us what is good, and hast set before us life and death, a blessing and a curse, and in compassion to our sin and infirmity hast opened unto us the gates of righteousness. Let us gladly seize upon this thine inestimable benefit, let us go in and praise Thy Holy name. Let us not stagger at the promise through unbelief, but, make us stedfast in the faith, giving glory to God, being fully persuaded that what He hath promised, He is able also to perform.

O Lord, give us grace that we may this day serve Thee our Maker with singleness of heart. Make us patiently and joyfully to follow Him who has left us an ensample of godly life. Yea, let our confidence be in Him who has redeemed us from all iniquity. May we feel that he hath both the will and the power freely to provide for our wants. Dispose us, O God, with humble and contrite hearts to repose our trust upon the Rock of ages, who is the hope of all the ends of the earth; and so to have our hearts lifted up above the conflicts of a world that shall soon cease. Let us evermore rejoice in the Lord, and, knowing that all things work together for the good of them that love God, let us walk in newness of life, as becometh men who have been ransomed from sin and death.

Grant, O most merciful Lord, that we may all experience a death unto sin and a new birth unto righteousness, a burial of the carnal mind, and a resurrection with Christ in the renewal of our minds. May we feel that Thy love is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, that the love of Christ constraineth us, and that Thy power is working within us both to will and to do of Thy good pleasure.

O Lord, let our obedience to the faith be crowned with these testimonies of Thy gracious assistance and approbation. So that we Thy fallen creatures may in Thine appointed way be restored to the divine image, and, being lead by the Spirit of God, we may become the sons of God, through adoption and grace.

On our relations and friends, and on our Queen and country, be pleased, O Lord, to shed forth Thy gifts and Thy mercies; and grant that all they who name the name of Christ, may agree in the truth of

Thy Holy Word, and live in unity, and godly love.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

III.

HEAR our prayer, O Lord, give ear to our supplications, in Thy faithfulness answer us, and in Thy righteousness; and, enter not into judgment with Thy servants, for in Thy sight shall no man living be justified.—(From Ps. cxliii. 1, 2.)

O God, whose loving kindness hath called us to be subjects of Thy Heavenly kingdom here on earth, that we, being regenerate, may become meet for an everlasting and glorious kingdom in the life to come. Grant us grace to put on the whole armour of righteousness, and so to quit ourselves in our christian warfare, that, having fought the good fight, we may finish our course with joy.

Praised be Thy name, O Lord Jehovah, who, being our Creator, art also become our Redeemer and Sanctifyer. Who hast made us Thy people, and the sheep of Thy pasture, who hast showed Thy perfect way and permitted us to walk in the light of Thy truth.

O Lord, endue us with Thy heavenly wisdom, and strengthen us by Thy might, and bring us nearer unto Thee. Let Thy grace subdue our hearts, and dispose us to do all things according to the teaching of our heavenly Master, who is the way, the truth, and the life. Let Thy long-suffering inspire us with godly fear, and keep us mindful, O Lord, that unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required, in the day when Thou shalt "judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to the Gospel."—(Rom. ii. 16.)

O God, enlighten our minds and make us wise unto salvation, and obedient to that form of doctrine which has been delivered unto us. So that, being made free from sin, we may become servants of righteousness, and being convinced of the fullness of Christ's redemption, of the easiness of His yoke, of the sweetness of His peace, we may henceforth live, not unto ourselves, but unto Him who died for us and rose again.

O Lord Christ, who once wast touched with the feeling of our infirmities, leave us not comfortless, but come unto us, and, though the world seeth Thee not, let us see Thee, and in keeping Thy word and precepts make us to feel that we love Thee, and are loved for Thy sake by our Father which is in heaven.

Almighty God, we pray for the blessed aid of Thy sanctifying Spirit. Grant that by His holy inspiration we may have our hearts lifted up above the perishing glories of this world, remembering that what is highly esteemed amongst men is often abomination in the sight of God. Keep us mindful, O Lord, that we truly live in Thy presence, and that there is not a thought in any of our hearts but Thou, Lord, knowest it altogether; and let us take heed unto ourselves that we offend not our brethren, nor, by word or deed, lead them into temptation.

O Lord, strengthen them together with us, that we may all trust in Thee, and keep Thy way. Deliver us from every evil work, and preserve us unto Thy heavenly kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

IV.

BLESS the Lord, O our souls, and all that is within us bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O our souls, and forget not all his benefits. Who forgiveth all our sin, and healeth all our infirmity; who redeemeth our life from destruction, and crowneth us with mercy and loving-kindness.—(From Ps. ciii.)

O God, our refuge, in whom we live, and move, and have our being, who knowest the secrets of all hearts: Give us grace this day to retain Thee in our thoughts, and amid our cares and occupations to hold fast unto Thee as unto the anchor of our souls.

Be thou our strong hold whereunto we may alway resort. Let us hide Thy word in our hearts, that we may not sin against Thee. O Lord uphold our spirits within us, that, placing our sure trust in Thee, we may not be confounded. Teach us to keep Thy judgments before us, and not to put away Thy statutes from us. O shew us the path of life: for in Thy presence is fulness of joy; and at Thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

Thou, O God, has decreed that the wages of sin is death; but hast given us eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Grant, O most merciful Father, that we, through His death, being made free from sin, and become servants of righteousness, may have our fruit unto holiness,—and, the end, everlasting life. Grant us understanding that we may know Thee, the only true God, through Him who has brought us nearer unto Thee. Give us grace to remember how it is written in Thy word. “Let not the wise glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty glory in his might. Let not the rich man glory in his riches,—but let him that glorieth, glory in this,—that he un-derstandeth and knoweth Thee that Thou art the Lord, which dost exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth.”—(Jer. ix. 23, 24.)

O Lord God of truth, increase in us this understanding and this knowledge,—subdue our hearts unto Thee, and enable us henceforth to walk as children of light, according to Thy word.

Let us watch and pray that we enter not into temptation. Let us stand in awe, and sin not. O Lord give us grace and strength, in this our day, to become prepared for that day, when all things shall be known.

We commend unto Thee, O Father of mercies, our relations and friends. Refresh, we pray Thee, their souls with that water which springeth up unto everlasting life, and give unto them that peace which the world cannot give.

We humbly beseech Thee, O Lord, to let Thy blessing and protection descend upon our Queen, and all who are in authority in church and state; and also upon our fellow-subjects, whether in these kingdoms, or scattered abroad on the face of the earth : that they may all, in their several stations, be guided in Thy faith and fear, and may be enabled to turn many to righteousness, and to make thy way known upon earth.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

V.

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praise unto Thy name, O Most High. To shew forth Thy loving-kindness in the morning, and Thy faithfulness every night.—(Ps. xcii. 1, 2.)

O Lord, we beseech Thee mercifully hear our prayers, and spare all those who confess their sins unto Thee, that we, whose consciences by sin are accused by Thy merciful pardon, may be absolved, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Almighty God, who seest that we have no power of ourselves to help ourselves, we give Thee humble thanks for the preservation of us during the night, and for all the blessings which Thou continuest to us; and we beseech Thee to keep us this day from all adversities which may happen to the body, and from all evil imaginations which may assault and hurt the soul.

O Lord, we come into Thy presence, desirous of renewing our faith and confidence in Thee, our reconciled Creator, and in that gracious Redeemer, who ever liveth at the right hand of Thy Majesty, making intercession for them that love Him.

Blessed be Thy name, O heavenly Father, that Thou art in Christ Jesus reconciling the world unto Thyself; and that the aid of Thy Holy Spirit is promised to such as ask in faith. Grant that by His heavenly guidance we may be led to renounce self-will and self-worship, and live no longer unto ourselves, but unto Him that loved us, and gave himself for us. When we are engaged in the business and occupations of this world, do Thou, Lord, in Thy mercy be near to direct, counsel, instruct, and uphold us, and if trials come upon us, enable us to "commit ourselves to Him who judgeth righteously."—(1 Pet. ii. 23.)

Lord, lift up the light of Thy countenance upon us and give us peace, even that peace which the world can neither give nor take away. Let a sense of Thy presence solemnize our spirits at all times, that we may live here as those whose hearts are in a better country, and use the world that now is, as not abusing it,—knowing that the fashion thereof passeth away.

O Thou who art of purer eyes than to behold iniquity, strengthen us by Thy Spirit and by Thy might, that the deceitfulness of sin may not subvert us, and that we may be able to stand in the hour of temptation; ever bearing in mind the words of our blessed Master, “that there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, neither hid that shall not be known.”

O Lord, we pray that Thy kingdom may be enlarged, and that men may be brought from darkness to light, and turn from vanities to serve the living God.

To Thy merciful care and providence,

O Heavenly Father, do, we commit ourselves this day, and all our relations and friends. Lord bless us and keep us, and give us humble and contrite hearts. Lord, make us trustful and thankful. Make Thy face to shine upon us, and be gracious unto us.

Our Father, &c.

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be upon us, and remain with us, now and for ever.

VI.

IN Thee, O Lord, do we put our trust ;
let us never be ashamed. Deliver us in Thy righteousness.

Thou art our rock and our fortress : for Thy name's sake lead us and guide us.

Into Thy hands we commit our spirits :
for Thou hast redeemed us, O Lord God of truth.—(From Ps. xxxi. 1, 2, 3.)

O God, whose never-failing providence is over all Thy works, we thank Thee that through Thy protection we are brought to the beginning of another day :
give us grace to spend it in Thy fear and to Thy glory. For Thou alone, most merciful Father, dost sustain us in this life, and Thou alone, through Thy beloved Son, hast redeemed our souls from death, and our feet from falling.

Grant that a sense of Thy continual presence, and of Thine all-seeing eye, may prevent our goings, and keep us in the path that leadeth unto life. O Thou that didst take away the sin of the world, enlighten our minds and cause us to perceive and know that to fear Thee, to love Thee, and to obey Thee, is joy and peace. Be pleased, O Lord, to give us such a share of this world's good as Thou mayest see most needful for us, and keep us mindful "that man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live."

O God, the giver of every good and perfect gift, let thy Holy Spirit confirm our hearts and open our eyes, and so lead us into all truth, that we, discerning the abomination of sin, may utterly eschew it; and, beholding the beauty of holiness, may set our affections upon it. Lead us to seek Thy wisdom and Thy guidance, where alone they are to be found, in the sacred volume of Thy word, and in the sinless pattern of Thy Son our Saviour, who, being in the form of God, did shew unto the world the things of God.

From envy, hatred, and malice, and all uncharitableness, and also from covetousness—which is idolatry; Good Lord deliver us,—and grant that amid the sundry changes of this world, we may hold fast our confidence in Thee our maker, and so fear Thee as to be freed from all other fear.

Bless, gracious God, our relations and friends, and all those for whom we are in duty bound to pray. Grant unto them, and unto us, the knowledge of Thy truth, and let Thy good Spirit so guide us in the ways and works of godliness, that we may be enabled both to will and to do of Thy good pleasure, and bring forth fruit to the glory of our Heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Our Father, &c.

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be upon us, and remain with us, now and for ever.

VII.

THE law of the Lord is perfect—converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure—making wise the simple.

The statutes of the Lord are right—rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure—enlightening the eyes.

The fear of the Lord is clean—enduring for ever. The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.—(Ps. xix. 7, 8, 9.)

O God, whose blessed Son has promised that where two or three are gathered together in His name, there He will be in the midst of them, give us grace to remember that this promise is no light thing. Lord, help us to pray in spirit and in truth,—with the understanding and from the heart. Teach us to ask faithfully, that we may obtain effectually; to ask, knowing how much we need, and desiring to have our need supplied; and let thy Holy Spirit so assist and purify our thoughts, that we may be enabled in these our prayers to eat the bread and drink the water of life.

Let Thy testimonies, O merciful Father, be our delight and our counsellors. Make us evermore to rejoice in the hidden treasures of Thy truth, and therewith to fortify our minds and satisfy our spirits. Grant that we may have our souls enlightened with the true light which lighteneth every man that cometh into the world, and our hearts replenished with that peace which our Saviour hath purchased for us with His precious blood. In order that we may attain unto Thy gracious promises, make us, O most dread God, rightly to understand and constantly to fear Thy just and holy wrath,—trembling, least our names, though written in the book of life, should, through our misdeeds and want of faith, be blotted out. Let us hold fast that which we have. Let us pray that we enter not into temptation, and watch that no man take our crown.

O Lord, we know not what a day may bring forth ; teach us to maintain fear in prosperity, and not to cast away our hope in adversity ; and give us hearts full of the unity of the Spirit, so that shunning all strife and divisions, we may follow the footsteps of Thy true saints and servants, and walk in humility and love.

Bless, we most humbly beseech Thee, all those whom we should remember before Thee, and vouchsafe to do for our relations and friends, for our Queen and country, and for the increase of Thy true religion more abundantly than we are able to ask or think,—for Jesus Christ's sake, in whose name and blessed words we pray, saying,

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

VIII.

O God, be merciful to us, and bless us ;
and shew us the light of Thy countenance and be merciful unto us.—(From Ps.
lxvii. 1.)

Withhold not Thou Thy tender mercies from us: let Thy loving-kindness and Thy truth continually preserve us.—(From Ps. xl. 14.)

Behold Thou hast made our days as an hand-breadth, and our age is as nothing before Thee: verily every man at his best estate is altogether vanity.—(From Ps. xxxix 6.)

So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.—(From Ps. xc. 12.)

O God, our maker and preserver, who hast brought us to see the light of another day, whose fatherly care hath protected us through sleep and darkness, and restored us to life, and power, and thought give us grace to draw nigh unto Thee in thankfulness. Vouchsafe to be our guide and our counsellor, the lifter up of our hearts and the opener of our eyes. Cause us to see in the world, and all that is therein, the testimonies of Thine Almighty power and goodness; and let us glorify Thee with our bodies and our spirits, which are Thine. May we acknowledge Thine over-ruling hand in all the events of our lives; and, in whatever state Thy wisdom ordaineth for us, be Thou, O Lord, the strength of our hearts, and our portion for ever.

O God, be merciful to our sin, who, living in the midst of Thy bounties, so seldom lift up our hearts unto the giver of life and breath, and all things. We praise Thee, O Lord, for prolonging our days, and those of our relations and friends—for our health and reason; for the creatures which Thou hast placed under man's dominion, and ordained for his help,—and for all the comforts and conveniences of life. We also bless Thy name, O Father of mercies, for that religious light and knowledge which in this favoured land is freely offered unto us, and unto all our fellow-subjects.

O put Thy laws into our minds, and write them upon our hearts, that Thou mayest be to us a God, and that we may be unto Thee a people.

We are encouraged by Thy word, O Lord, to make prayer and supplication, and to give thanks for all men. We therefore humbly pray Thee to look down on our relations and friends, and to visit them with Thy salvation. Be pleased to comfort and succour all them who in this transitory life are in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness, or any other adversity. Let Thy blessing be upon our Queen and our country. Pour out upon us the spirit of repentance and reformation. That we may be a nation serving Thee and working righteousness: "That the Lord our God may be with us," that "He may not leave us nor forsake us," but that He "may incline our hearts unto Him, to walk in all his ways."—(1 Kings viii. 57, 58.)

Our Father, &c.

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be upon us, and remain with us, now and for ever.

IX.

Lo the poor crieth and the Lord hear-eth him : yea, and saveth him out of all his troubles.

The angel of the Lord tarrieth round about them that fear him : and deliver-eth them.

O taste and see how gracious the Lord is : blessed is the man that trusteth in Him.

O fear the Lord, ye that are his saints :
for they that fear him lack nothing.—(Ps.
xxxiv. 6, 7, 8, 9.)

Almighty God, we return Thee sincere thanks for the rest Thou hast this night given us ; and as Thou hast raised us to see the blessed light of another day, give us grace, we beseech Thee, to employ it to Thy honour and glory.

O Lord, increase our faith and heighten our love; make us rightly to understand the riches of Thy long-suffering. Make us to know that it is a good and joyful thing to be thankful for every blessing of Thy providence; especially for the privilege Thou hast given us of approaching Thee in prayer through faith in Jesus Christ Thy Son. O God, make clean our hearts within us, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from us. Grant that by His aid and inspiration we may be found ready to lift up our souls unto Thee in praise and thanksgiving, and evermore to place our confidence in Thee.

Thou, O Lord, dost over-rule the world by Thine unceasing governance, and makest all things work together for the good of them that love and serve Thee. Save us, we beseech Thee, from those cares and troubles which grow from want of trust in Thine Almighty power. Lead us to seek first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness; believing that all things needful shall be added unto us. Grant unto Thy servants a pure heart and a single eye. And, O Lord, bless us with the light of Thy truth.

If trouble come upon us, enable us to say, "Our help standeth in the name of the Lord, who has made heaven and earth." For thou, O God, savest such as be of a contrite spirit, and redeemest the souls of Thy servants, and none of them that trust in Thee shall be desolate.

Thou hast put a new song into our mouth, even a thanksgiving unto our God. As the heaven is high above the earth, so great is Thy mercy toward them that fear Thee: as far as the east is from the west, so far hast Thou removed our transgressions from us.

Accept, O Lord, the free-will offerings of our mouth, and teach us Thy judgments. Let Thy word be a lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our path. Order our steps therein, and let not any iniquity have dominion over us. But give us grace to love Thee the Lord our God, with all our hearts, and souls, and minds; and also to love our neighbour as our selves. Strengthen our weakness, O most merciful Father, that we may cleave to these Thy gracious laws, and make us so to follow that which Thou dost command as to obtain that which Thou dost promise, through the atoning merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour.

O God, we pray Thee to send out Thy light and truth through the world. That all mankind may be converted and return unto Thee, and become obedient unto the mighty Shepherd and deliverer of souls, who alone hath declared Thee and set forth Thy will.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

X.

PRAISED be the Lord daily, even the God who helpeth us, and poureth his benefits upon us.

He is our God,—the God of whom cometh salvation. God is the Lord by whom we escape death.—(Ps. lxxviii. 19, 20.)

O Lord God, who knowest what is in man, and what is good for man,—who in mercy and love didst give Thy holy commandments to be a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our paths,—open our eyes, that we may perceive how great has been our loss whenever we have swerved from Thy statutes.

O Lord, renew us unto repentance, and as Thou hast shown us what is good, and given us instruction for the guidance of our bodies and spirits which are thine, lead us so to profit therein as to become wise unto salvation. Make us to see and to bewail our folly, who, with Thy law and Thy truth before us, have departed therefrom, and followed our own vain imaginations; who, rejecting our Maker's wisdom, have heaped up for ourselves sorrow and condemnation.

O Lord, enter not into judgment with Thy servants. Let us not be numbered with them that "observe lying vanities, forsaking their own mercy," (Jonah ii. 8,) but enable us, through the might of our Redeemer, and through the blessed aid of Thy Holy Spirit, to walk henceforth in faith, and so to fulfil all thy righteous will concerning us. Having Thy law written upon our hearts, and keeping it, not according to the letter which killeth, but according to the spirit which giveth life. O Lord, accept us in the Beloved, and clothe us with that righteousness which is through faith in Christ.

O Thou that didst make the eye and plant the ear, and to whose loving-kindness we owe all the faculties of our souls and bodies, grant us grace to use these gifts with reverence and in Thy fear, for we are fearfully and wonderfully made; and dispose us to remember, O thou Searcher of hearts, that though we may deceive our own souls, we cannot deceive Thee,—neither can we flee from Thy presence. May we never wish to do so, but, walking according to Thy will, O Heavenly Father, may we place our trust in Thine Almighty power, and rejoice under the shadow of Thy wings.

For Thou, Lord, art our Creator and Redeemer, and art able to save to the uttermost all them that put their trust in Thee.

Preserve us, O God, this day from danger. Deliver us from the snares of sin, and from the deceitfulness of our own hearts,—and, in our respective occupations and employments, vouchsafe us Thy blessing.

Extend, we pray Thee, the Redeemer's kingdom, and let the number of those who hear and obey the Gospel be multiplied in every part of the earth. O Lord, prosper Thou Thy servants in all lands. Bless them as a nation that have the Lord for their God, that their light may shine in the world, and that men may be converted, and return unto Thee, and bring praise and glory to their Maker and only Saviour.

Our Father, &c.

The Grace, &c.

XI.

TURN Thy face from our sins : and put out all our misdeeds.

Make us clean hearts, O God : and renew a right spirit within us.

Cast us not away from Thy presence : and take not Thy Holy Spirit from us.

O give us the comfort of Thy help again, and stablish us with Thy free Spirit.
—(From Ps. li. 9—12.)

Almighty God, by whose providence our frail bodies are continually refreshed and supported, let Thy merciful protection guard and sustain our souls throughout the day which is now before us. Let the riches of Thy long-suffering lead us to repentance and amendment, and, into whatsoever circumstances we may fall, let Thy

Holy Spirit direct and govern our thoughts, enduing us with steadfast trust in Thee, O Heavenly Father; and in that gracious Mediator, who ever liveth at Thy right hand, to make intercession for them that love him. So “shall we be strong and of good courage, and not be afraid nor dismayed, for the Lord our God shall be with us whithersoever we go.”—Joshua i. 9.

O Lord Christ, who didst overcome death and obtain gifts for men, enable us to lay hold on those inestimable benefits which Thou didst purchase for Thy true servants and believers. Give us grace to desire the best gifts, and grant that, being sanctified by the Spirit, and having our hearts purified by faith, we may walk in all holy obedience, and in that love which is the fulfilling of the law. Make us to continue in Thy word, and so to prove that we are Thy disciples.

Instead of coveting the things of this world, dispose us to hunger and thirst after righteousness, and to betake ourselves unto Thee, O blessed Redeemer, whose word is meat indeed, and drink indeed, in whom dwelleth all fulness of wisdom.

O Thou that art the light of the world, let us not abide in darkness, but cause us to follow Thee, and to have the light of life: and seeing that whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin, and is in bondage, let us strive after the glorious liberty of the children of God.

We humbly beseech Thee, O Heavenly Father, to bless our relations and friends. O Lord sustain and prosper them in Thy way, that, walking in Thy fear, they may be strong and of good comfort, and so follow Thy beloved Son as to become themselves children of God, and heirs of everlasting glory.

O God, let all the heathen praise Thee: let Thy dominion be from one sea to another, and from the flood unto the world's end: and blessed be the name of

Thy Majesty for ever, and let all the earth be filled with Thy glory.

Our Father, &c.

XII.

THE Lord is righteous in all His ways :
and holy in all His works.

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him : yea, all such as call upon Him faithfully.

He will fulfil the desire of them that fear Him : He also will hear their cry, and will help them.—Ps. cxlv. 17, 18, 19.

What return shall we make unto the Lord for all his goodness and for all his loving-kindness which He hath showed unto His servants? Let us render unto God thanksgiving, and pay our vows unto the Most High. Let us worship the Lord with a holy worship, and Him only let us serve. Let us walk in humble submission to His will : believing that as He hath made and preserved us, so He is able also to restore and to glorify us in body and soul.

O Lord Jehovah, the fountain of all the good we have received, and of all we can ever hope to enjoy, renew us in the spirit of our minds ; that we may hate sin and love Thee with all our heart and soul and strength, and be accepted as Thy children, through the merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Thine we are, O most merciful Creator, for in Thee we live, and move, and have our being; yea, though we walk in the valley of the shadow of death, Thou art with us. Let us then continually remember that Thine eye beholdeth our thoughts and our ways ; and if trials come upon us, give us courage " to endure, as seeing Him who is invisible."—(Rom. ix. 26.)

In the revelation of Jesus Christ Thy Son our Lord, make us to behold Thy light, and glory, and truth. Implant in our hearts that love to Thee and to all our brethren, which is the fulfilling of the law and the medicine of life ; and grant that while we praise Thy Holy Name for spiritual blessings, and rejoice in our Christian privileges, we may also bear in mind that unless we manifest the Spirit of Christ, we are none of His, and, that though we speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not charity, we are as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.

O God, who requirest the heart to give us grace to remember that we cannot serve Thee and mammon. Strengthen us by Thy might in our warfare against sin, and so guide us by Thy Spirit, that the allurements of the world and the deceitfulness of riches may never tempt us from the path of life, nor exclude us from the banquet of our Heavenly Master : and us take heed that we be not slothful, but fervent in spirit, and followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Lord, make us to be living witnesses of that religion whose ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths peace.

Enable us to rejoice alway, to pray without ceasing, and in everything to give thanks, striving to do Thy will in earth as it is done in heaven.

Let Thy Holy Spirit, O God, comfort and direct us, and take from us all blindness and hardness of heart, all pride, vain-glory, and hypocrisy: and, seeing that gain is not godliness, but that godliness with contentment is great gain, (1 Tim. vi. 6,) let us follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.—(2 Tim. ii. 22.)

Almighty God, the fountain of all goodness, we humbly beseech Thee to bless our relations and friends. Endue them with Thy Holy Spirit, enrich them with Thy heavenly grace, prosper them with all happiness, and bring them to Thine everlasting kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

XIII.

O COME let us worship and fall down :
and kneel before the Lord our Maker.

For he is the Lord our God, and we are the people of His pasture and the sheep of His hand.—(Ps. xcv. 6, 7.)

Most gracious Lord God, we Thy servants approach Thee, not trusting in our own righteousness, but in the righteousness and intercession of Christ our Saviour.

In us no good thing dwelleth. We have followed too much the imaginations of our own hearts, and “the God in whose hands is our breath, and whose are all our ways we have not glorified.”—(Dan. v. 23.)

O Lord, convince us of our sin and frailty ; and so teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

We are strangers and sojourners upon earth as all our fathers were. But, though Thou hast made our life as it were a span long, Thou, Lord, art our helper. Yea, though we are but dust, our confidence is in Thee. For Thou art able both to create and to restore. Thou, O God, turnest man to destruction, and sayest, Come again, ye children of men.

The Heavens declare Thy glory, and the firmament sheweth Thy handy-work. And we know that there is nothing too hard for Thee. We know also, O most merciful Father, the riches of Thy divine love, in the redemption of mankind, by Jesus Christ Thy Son our Lord. He hath declared Thy will; and we believe that whoso trusteth and followeth Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life.

O God, give us understanding to comprehend and adore Thine infinite goodness and mercy, and lead us with penitent hearts and in the full assurance of faith, "to join ourselves unto Thee, and to serve Thee, and to love Thy name, and be Thy servants."—Isa. lvi. 6.

Thou, Lord, hast made and redeemed us. Let us then distrust ourselves, and trust only in Thee. Thou, through Thy beloved Son, hast shown us what we ought to be, and what we ought to do; and hast declared that the poor in spirit, the meek, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peace-makers, and they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, are happy, and greatly blessed.

O lead us to place our confidence and joy in Thine unerring word, and not in the uncertain and deceitful treasure of this world: and grant unto Thy servants single and contented minds, that we may press forward after the things that beguile not, and the things that belong unto our peace.

O God let the remembrance of our past transgressions humble, but not abase us, and give us faith to become conformed to Thy will, and to delight in Thy law : for the end of Thy commandments is love : and though we be let and hindered in running the race that is set before us, grant us strength to hold onward in the path of duty. O turn away our eyes from beholding vanity, and quicken us in Thy way. That way, O Lord, is not grievous ; but to transgress is grievous.

Let Thy mercies come unto us, O God ; even Thy salvation, according to Thy word.

Our Father, &c.

The grace, &c.

XIV.

PRAISED be the Lord daily; even the God who helpeth us, and poureth his benefits upon us.

O Almighty God, look down upon us Thy weak and sinful creatures. Enlighten our minds, that we may pray to Thee according to Thy will, and obtain of Thee our petitions.

By thy continual providence, O Lord, our lives are sustained, and through Thy divine compassion and love propitiation has been made for us, and for all mankind. Grant that this, thine unspeakable goodness and mercy, may change our hearts and minds to entire obedience and deep love to Thee; so that all sin and rebellion against Thee may perish within within us.

O grant that we may die indeed unto sin, and rise again unto righteousness; and become Thy regenerate children, and followers of Him who suffered for us and rose again. O merciful Father, send into our hearts Thy sanctifying Spirit, to help our infirmity, that all darkness and error may be removed from us, that we may know the things which belong unto our peace, and betake ourselves to that Saviour who alone hath revealed Thy will; being the image of the invisible God.

Dispose us, O Lord, to meditate on His life and death, and to compare our ways with that which He hath required and enjoined.

For He only is the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father but by Him.

Thou, Lord, knowest our several necessities. O supply them out of Thy fulness, Let not our hearts be overcharged with the cares of this life, but give us wisdom to pursue the one thing needful.

O God, so change and establish our affections by Thy grace, that we may rest from sin and folly, and cease from vain and covetous desires: and let us not fear, though we be made poor, for we shall have much wealth if we depart from all sin and fear Thee, and do that which is pleasing in Thy sight.

O merciful Father, make us to abound in faith and obedience, and grant that so long as we remain in this world, we may be enabled to set forth Thy truth in our words and deeds, humbly and truly serving Thee all the days of our life, through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Be pleased, O Lord, to sustain and bless the Queen, and all who are in authority in church and state. O give them wisdom, "that they may keep Thy way, and do justice and judgment:" (Gen. xviii. 19 :) and let Thy merciful providence watch over all our kindred and acquaintance, that they may be directed according to Thy will, and obtain sanctification and redemption, and have joy and peace in believing.

Our Father, &c.

FOR CHRISTMAS OR EASTER
DAY.

BLESSED be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people; and hath raised up a mighty Salvation for us: in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which have been since the world began.—(St. Luke i. 68.)

O God, whose blessed Son was manifested that He might destroy the works of the devil, and make us sons of God and heirs of eternal life; Grant us we beseech Thee that, having this hope, we may purify ourselves, even as he is pure; that when he shall appear again with power and great glory, we may be made like unto Him in His eternal and glorious kingdom; where with Thee O Father, and Thee O

Holy Ghost, He liveth and reigneth ever one God, world without end. Amen. (Collect for the 6th Sunday after Epiphany.)

O Lord, we have seen what many prophets and wise men did desire to see. Thy promise hath not failed. The messenger of peace hath appeared upon earth, and hath revealed the will of God to man. He hath made reconciliation for iniquity, and hath sprinkled clean water upon the people of God. His word is peace, His law is love. He hath given us beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, and the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness. We looked for a judge and behold a saviour, we feared an accuser, and behold an advocate. Messiah's kingdom upon earth is established, the government is upon his shoulder, and his name is called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace. He hath fulfilled the sure word of prophecy, and of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end. The Gentiles are come to his light and kings to the brightness of his rising. A people that knew him not is called by His name, even those whom he hath redeemed out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. He hath destroyed the wisdom of the wise, and hath brought to nothing the understanding of the prudent.—(Cor. i. 1—19.) The rock of offence is become the head-stone of the corner. When we look upon the world in this our day, behold, all that is not of Christ, is darkness, and weakness, and error.

Let us then rejoice in our salvation, and in our strength, in the kingdom of our God, and in the power of his Christ. Let us pray daily for the increase of that kingdom and that power. Let us fear and love Him who endured the cross, despising the shame, who took away the hand-writing that was against us, to whom all judgment is delivered. Let us praise the God of our salvation. Let us serve him with the sacrifice of our hearts. For great and marvellous are Thy works O Lord. Thou makest the weak things of the earth to confound the mighty. Just and true are Thy ways, O Thou king of saints, who shall not fear Thee? Who shall not glorify Thy name? For Thou only art holy, for all nations shall come and worship before Thee, for Thy judgments are manifest.

O God, the giver of every good and perfect gift, let Thy word be a rock of defence to us and all our brethren, and so lead us by Thy Spirit, that we may attain the precious benefits of Christ's incarnation and death.

O Grant, that being made free from sin, we may live in vital union with our heavenly Master, the author and finisher of our faith, to whom be all blessing, adoration, and praise, now and for ever.

Our Father, &c.

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father the Son and Holy Spirit, be upon us, and remain with us always.

J. HATCHARD AND SON.

ADAM, REV. T.—AN EXPOSITION of the FOUR GOSPELS, of which the Notes on those by St. MARK, St. LUKE, and St. JOHN, have never before been published. By the late Rev. THOMAS ADAM, B.A. Rector of Winttringham; Author of "Private Thoughts on Religion," &c. With a MEMOIR of the AUTHOR. 2 vols. 8vo. cloth, 12s. published originally at 1l. 1s.

Perhaps few were better fitted to write a practical and experimental commentary on any part of the Scriptures than this author, whose pregnant briefness of remark, and deep acquaintance with experimental religion, would preserve him from prolixity, and enable him to present the most useful view of the subject to the mind. The present posthumous work will be found characterized by all the best peculiarities of the author."—Record.

ALLEN, REV. I. N.—A DIARY of a MARCH through SCINDE, and AFGHANISTAN, with the troops under the Command of General Sir W. Nott, &c., during the Campaign of 1842. By the Rev. I. N. ALLEN, Assistant Chaplain to the Hon. E. I. Company's Bombay Establishment. Post 8vo. cloth, with several Illustrations, 12s.

"That portion of the war of which the author treats has been hitherto almost untouched."—Asiatic Journal.

"Everything interesting the author examined with attention; and the account he has given of the proceedings of the army, the manners, customs, and mode of warfare of the Afghans, will be read with pleasure and with profit; and we recommend Mr. Allen's book to all who feel an interest in the country."—Times.

"It is impossible to read this work without the conviction that the author has bestowed very much thought on a very large number of most important subjects, and has accomplished the very difficult task, viz. of writing a book on an abstruse subject, which general readers may understand, and scientific men profit by. Few will rise from its perusal without being sensible that on some points their views have become more clear, and that new trains of thought have been suggested to them; and no one can close it without feeling much respect both for the principles and abilities of the author."—British and Foreign Medical Review.

"This work is not only replete with valuable information, but richly enlivened with anecdote, story, and legend, splendidly bound up, and illuminated with beautiful engravings. The contents are various and interesting." Literary Gazette.

"The coloured lithographs that illustrate these volumes, in a rich profusion which proves that cost has not been considered, are effective and splendid presentments of the magnificent architecture of the East, and would alone make the work valuable. Paper, type, and binding, are all so many luxuries."—Athenæum.

"This is one of the best works that have been published on the subject of Hindostan."—Spectator.

"We earnestly recommend this work to the attention of the reading public, as the most interesting and best written that has been issued on India for a number of years. The plates are perfect architectural drawings, with rich illuminations in colour, to convey more accurately a true idea of the originals."—Britannia.

STOWELL, REV. H.—TRACTARIANISM TESTED by HOLY SCRIPTURE and the CHURCH of ENGLAND, in a Series of Sermons. By the Rev. HUGH STOWELL, M.A., Incumbent of Christ Church, Manchester, and Hon. Prebendary of Chester. 2 vols. 12mo. cloth, each 6s.

Contents of Vol. 1:—Private judgment—The standard of faith—Apostolical Succession, and the Powers of the Clergy—The Church of England and the Reformation—How Separatists are to be regarded—The Importance of Preaching—On Reserve in the communication of Christian Doctrine.

Contents of Vol. 2:—Justification by faith—On Baptism—Sin after Baptism—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper—Fasting and Voluntary Humility—Forms—Church Architecture and Church Furniture—Recapitulation and Improvement.

N.B. The object of this work is not merely nor mainly to confute Tractarianism, but rather to inform and establish the minds of Churchmen on certain perplexing questions, respecting which definite views are much needed.

"We have read these discourses with unmixed pleasure, not only because of the importance of the subject of which they treat, but for the admirable spirit which they breathe. They are, in truth, models of controversial writing. It is impossible for us to imagine such questions to be handled with greater candour or ability."—Glasgow Courier.

STRANGE PLANET, an Allegory, and other Tales, for Sunday Reading. By the Author of "Aids to Developement." Illustrated with Woodcuts. 18mo. cloth, 3s.

"These are sketches it is true, but they are sketches by the hand of a master. Mr. Thompson's style is original, and we may venture strongly to recommend this little work."—Church and State Gazette.

"In a theological point of view his object is very successfully accomplished by Mr. Thompson. In a literary sense the plan of the writer gives purpose, variety, and interest to his discourses. Biography and applied morality are superadded to the general matter of a Sermon. The style is agreeable—the manner rapid and impressive."—Spectator.

THISTLETHWAITE, REV. W.—TWENTY-ONE SERMONS for CHARITY SCHOOLS. By the late Rev. W. THISTLETHWAITE, A.M., Incumbent of St. George's, Bolton. To which is prefixed a MEMOIR of the AUTHOR, with a Portrait. 12mo. cloth, 10s.

- MARY and FLORENCE at SIXTEEN. Fourth Edition. Fcap. cloth, 6s.

"These works are excellent. Miss Tytler's writings are especially valuable for their religious spirit. She has taken a just position between the rationalism of the last generation and the puritanism of the present, while the perfect nature and true art with which she sketches from juvenile life, show powers which might be more ambitiously displayed, but cannot be better bestowed."—Quarterly Review.
